CHRISTMAS EDITION.

This is our 100th issue of Albury Wodonga
Artists Society Newsletter. We hope to have many, many more...

MERRIE CHRISTMAS & A HAPPY NEW YEAR,

TO ALL OUR VALUED MEMBERS!

From the Presidents Scribble Pad.

This time two subjects close to my heart.

1. The Website
2. The meet and greet.

Our Website does require some sprucing up, but in general, is quite workable. So, what does it do for you?

A The website can be used as an open forum to voice your opinion, ideas, or wishes. This can be read by all members who have access to the internet. Just email to awas@awartsoc.org

To access the awartsoc INBOX go to: www.aircentre.com/webmail
Name:awas Password awas login.

This will give any member, access to your concern or proposal, and from there, if need be, it can be printed in the newsletter.

b. The website shows your work worldwide through the members Gallery.

c. Meet and greet, or whatever we want to call it, is an opening to put your work anonymously in front of discerning viewers. There will be a vote by all present to select the most appealing picture, which will then go in Cremers Art Shop window for three months, enabling you to display your work, thus promoting AWAS.

This month we did not participate, but in January we will have a meet and greet once again.

I suggest we coincide this occasion with the monthly meeting as part of the agenda.

If you cannot attend the meeting, at least drop off your drawing, pastel, or painting at the PAINTBOX, to take part in this promotional exercise.

WITH SO LITTLE EFFORT, YOU CAN CONTRIBUTE SO MUCH!
HAPPY PAINTING.

President Piet.

Did you all give any thought about the Drought promotion? (November Newsletter) PP.

Thanks to Clara and Pieter for their gracious hospitality in holding our meeting at their splendid home. Editor.

For the past three weeks AWAS held a market stall at the Albury Rotary Community Markets. We sold an incredible 26 works. This is not surprising, considering the quality of Art works created by our members. It has been discussed at the last meeting, the viability of continuing this way of marketing; most members agreed that, with a few reliable volunteers willing to give their time, the market stall could work on a regular monthly basis. Below, Val Boulton, Ken Holloway, and Wella Lechmere at their post. CAMBERWELL ART SHOW has rolled around again, this is THE Art show to exhibit your work. Members interested should call in to the studio to collect an enrolment form. Another upcoming exhibition will be at Betty and Muriel's Restaurant. It is only in the pipeline as yet, a beautiful venue to display Artworks! AWAS has never been busier. Australia Day is an important holiday on the calendar, and the Albury Council has allowed us to hold an exhibition at Norieul Park. Anyone interested in showing their work can contact Meg Brown, or Wella Lechmere.

TWO POMS AND A PAINTBRUSH

The Artistic journey of Ruth Gray and Olivia Alexander.

This exhibition is the first endeavour of Olivia and Ruth. Upon meeting three years ago, they have been on a rollercoaster journey in life and Art, this exhibition is a celebration of the good that can come out of such dark times, and of a friendship that has blossomed through a mutual love of the paintbrush, with a shared experience of migration. The works represent captured moments in life, rather like photographs they depict journeys actual and spiritual that allow the viewer to walk with the artists as they experiment with different media, such as watercolour, acrylic, ink and graphite to travel where they are now.

Framed and unframed works on paper and canvas are available, as well as very affordable limited edition printed postcards of the works.
